

Seabrook Village's Lifelong Learning Series presents:

Writing About the Great Unknown: Poems, Stories and Conversations with the Universe

Join us as we strive to give expression to those private musings about our place in the universe. Engage in lively conversation with artists, writers, and scientists who have sought to unlock the mysteries of the cosmos. Class time will be provided to begin as well as share work. Led by NJSCA teaching artist/poet Shelley Benaroya. No previous writing experience required.

Wednesday, September 6th
11: 30 AM – 12:30 PM
Town Square Atrium

Image: Hubble Space Telescope image of star-forming region NGC 3603 of the Milky Way ESA/Hubble Images

© Writing Center for Creative Aging 2023
<https://writingcenterforcreativeaging.com>