

THE EAST BRUNSWICK ARTS COMMISSION INVITES YOU TO:

When the Spirit Moves Me:

An Afternoon Inspired by the Art of Auguste Rodin & Isadora Duncan

Something clicked when the father of modern sculpture—Auguste Rodin—and the mother of modern dance—Isadora Duncan—crossed paths in Paris at the turn of the century. Join us as we explore how Rodin and Duncan made their art forms come to life in this fun, interactive workshop. Led by Shelley Benaroya, director/teaching artist for the Writing Center for Creative Aging, and Debra Orenstein, dancer/teaching artist for the Isadora Duncan International Institute Dance Company.

Saturday, March 28th
